

VMax Adapter

For use with LGR i-Series portable dehumidifiers

The VMax Adapter directs the warm, dry air produced by the LGR2800i and the LGR3500i directly over the floor surface in a focused, turbulent flow to help accelerate drying. Installs in seconds, and the rotomolded polyethylene construction – the same durable material as the dehumidifier housings – means easy maintenance and rugged service.

Product Features

- Ridged mounting ring snaps on over 2800i or 3500i outlet duct ring
- Integrated handle for easy transport
- Works with other Sahara airmover accessories (see Accessories tab, above).
